AEROSPACE & DEFENSE

- Served as CRO of GDC Technics, a Fort Worth aerospace company focused on complex interior modifications and connectivity solutions for wide-body aircraft. SCP helped the client navigate a contentious bankruptcy process during which it completed an expedited transition into two new lines of business, settled a major lawsuit with a former contract counterparty, and sourced exit financing from a sponsor-backed customer that supported its post-emergence business plan.
- Member of the Board of Directors and primary portfolio representative for an aerospace manufacturing company in Wichita, Kansas. Managed a team charged with designing and implementing a number of operational improvement projects. Negotiated the sale of the company's machining operations to a sponsor group, allowing the company to focus on its processing operations. Worked with Kansas environmental agency on a mitigation plan for environmental issues that ultimately facilitated a refinancing of the processing operation.
